The image shows the front cover of a book. The cover is made of red leather and features a wide, ornate border in gold tooling. The border consists of a repeating floral or foliate pattern. At the corners, there are larger, more complex decorative medallions. In the center of the cover, the text 'MARÉCHAL BERTRAND' is stamped in gold capital letters. Below this, a large white question mark is superimposed. Above the central text, there is a block of text in French, which appears to be a caption or description of the book's acquisition.
